TO DESTROY RATS AND MICE.—If you propose to destroy a mouse by arsnic, spread butter on bread, sprinkle on the arsnic, and drop a drop or two of oil of rhodium, and a mouse will unfailingly be attracted to the poison. Place beside it a saucer of water, and as soon as he has eaten of the poisoned bread and butter, he will driuk, and then die on the spot. Oil of anis seed spread on the bread will attract them into a trap.

VEGETABLE GARDEN.—Sow early Dutch Turnips, Ruta Baga, Carrots, Parsnips, Cabbages, Cauliflowers, Brocoli, Endive, Radishes, Spinach... Plant Snap Beans, Irish Potatoes, Melons. Transplant Cabbages, Celery, Cauliflowers, Brocoli, Tomatoes and Leeks. REMARKS.—A few Carrots, Parsnips, Spinach or Radishes, should be sown, and while young should be protected from the sun. The early Dutch Turnips should be sown in small quantities towards the last of the month. The Irish Potatoes will be fit for use in October, and Tomatoes when the spring sown crop ceases.

PUGH & BRO.'S

Photograph, Ambrotype and Da-guerrean Gallery,

TRIANGULAR BLOCK, MACON, GA.

We shall still continue business at our old stand, where we are producing LIKENESSES of every style, from miniature to the life-size Photograph Portrait, which we can make from Daguerreotypes of deceased persons as well as from life.

We are native Southerners, Carolinians by birth, and Georgians by adoption, but we do not ask patronage on that ground, but on the ground that we are producing as fine pictures as are made on this continent—as our specimens will show—and at prices as LOW as any Gallery in the State. We were awarded the premium, over all others, for the best Photographs, at the two last Annual State Fairs, and at the Cotton Planters' Fair.

Give us a trial, and we will guarantee to please you.

J. A. PUGH & BRO.
